

COACHES

As a professional and someone who works with high level players, I need someone who understands the situations that happen and can give me an advice that will help me and not just tap me on my back. Through SRS International, I have someone who has always been there to help me go through the challenges a coach's life brings. -from a young coach who is part of our mentoring program

COMING ALONGSIDE

Coaches have tremendous influence. We serve them by offering relevant training in their specific sport. Also, we walk alongside coaches to help them build an intentional value-based, holistic approach to coaching the entire athlete.

COMING ALONGSIDE

As individuals we come alongside coaches to listen, talk, pray, and share in their lives via visits, emails, and phone calls. We want to demonstrate God's love to all coaches and help them in their journeys.
